Frequently Asked Questions About Our eBay Program:

What type of items are we looking for?

While eBay is a great place to sell nearly anything, the following items have historically sold well:

- Art, Antiques, & Other Collectibles
- Clothing, Shoes, and Accessories
- Toys
- Tickets to Sport Events & Concerts
- Vintage & Retro Items
- Books, CDs, DVDs, and Video Games
- Jewelry
- Sporting Goods & Memorabilia
- Celebrity Signed and/or Designed Memorabilia
- Gift Cards

What items should I consider when making a donation?

For an item to be sellable, it would need to follow the guidelines that, for example, a Consignment store would have. Rule of thumb: Item should be in the condition that you would expect to receive it, if you were a Buyer.

- Have recognizable Brand names
- Clothing: No rips, tears, or stains
- Can be either new, or in excellent condition
- Be clean. We need the items in Sellable condition, not items that have to be cleaned first.
- Electronics: working condition.

What about Large items?

A good rule of thumb is, if the cost of SHIPPING the item outweighs the value of the item, then it is not going to sell on eBay. For example, a Computer Monitor is too heavy to ship. As we get further into this program, we have better qualifications for large items, but for now, if you have a question about an item being too large, please email Lori Wetzel at lwetzel@dublinvcc.org or call 925-560-6299 and ask for Jim Heal.

QUALIFICATIONS for specific CATEGORIES:

ELECTRONICS: Please TEST your electronics before donating. Besides being in working condition, please only items of current technology, and an item that someone would want to purchase. If it is questionable, you could always do a search on eBay to see if it is a wanted item.
